

Hosting Consultancy

We do not sell commercial hosting services like BlueHost, GoDaddy and Hostgator. But we provide integrated hosting solutions to our customers to avoid the hassles to manage a shared hosting account at 3rd party. We really are not too much keen to give this service but we are forced to do it because managing a shared hosting account often becomes painful for a customer. It often becomes too slow and vulnerable to security hack because of some evil sites hosted on the same server. The security and performance risks are low with us because we host only our own developed sites here.

We do not mind to give personalized services related to hosting at a 3rd party shared server. In that case, we will not charge for the server resources but for the services, we will provide. We will charge you separately for any mishap (say security hack) caused from the server end. We can manage your hosting on a VPS or on a dedicated server where you will have fewer security risks & performance issues.

What does it Cost?

For hosting a small website developed by us, the cost will be integrated with the monthly maintenance contract. We do not sell hosting services separately.

We can also hire a VPS / Dedicated server for you from a reliable web host (Rack Space / Lunar Pages) and take all the hassles related to hosting. The cost will depend on the hosting server and associated services you will get from us.

Why Hire Us

We really do not want to make a big money from the selling hosting services but we do it to reduce the pain of our customers when they host it with an unreliable hosting server. We just help our customers with the knowledgebase we have. To sleep well at night we purchase dedicated / VPS servers from reliable vendors like Rackspace/Lunar pages.
